Enter The Young

Here they come
Here they come
Here they come, yeah
Some are walking, some are riding
Here they come, yeah
And some are flying, some just gliding
Released after years of being kept in hiding
They're climbing up the ladder rung by rung.

Enter the young, yeah
Yeah, they've learned to think
Enter the young, yeah
More than you think they think
Not only learned to think, but to care
Not only learned to think, but to dare
Enter the young.

Yeah, here they come
Some with questions, some decisions
Here they come
And some with facts and some with visions
of a place to multiply without the use of divisions
To win a prize that no one's ever won.

Here they come, yeah
Some are laughing, some are crying
Here they come
And some are doing, some are trying
Some are selling, some are buying
Some are living, some are dying
But demanding recognition one by one.

Enter the young, yeah
Yeah, they've learned to think
Enter the young, yeah
More than you think they think
Not only learned to think, but to care
Not only learned to think, but to dare
Enter the young, yeah
Enter the young
Enter the young
Enter the young. . .

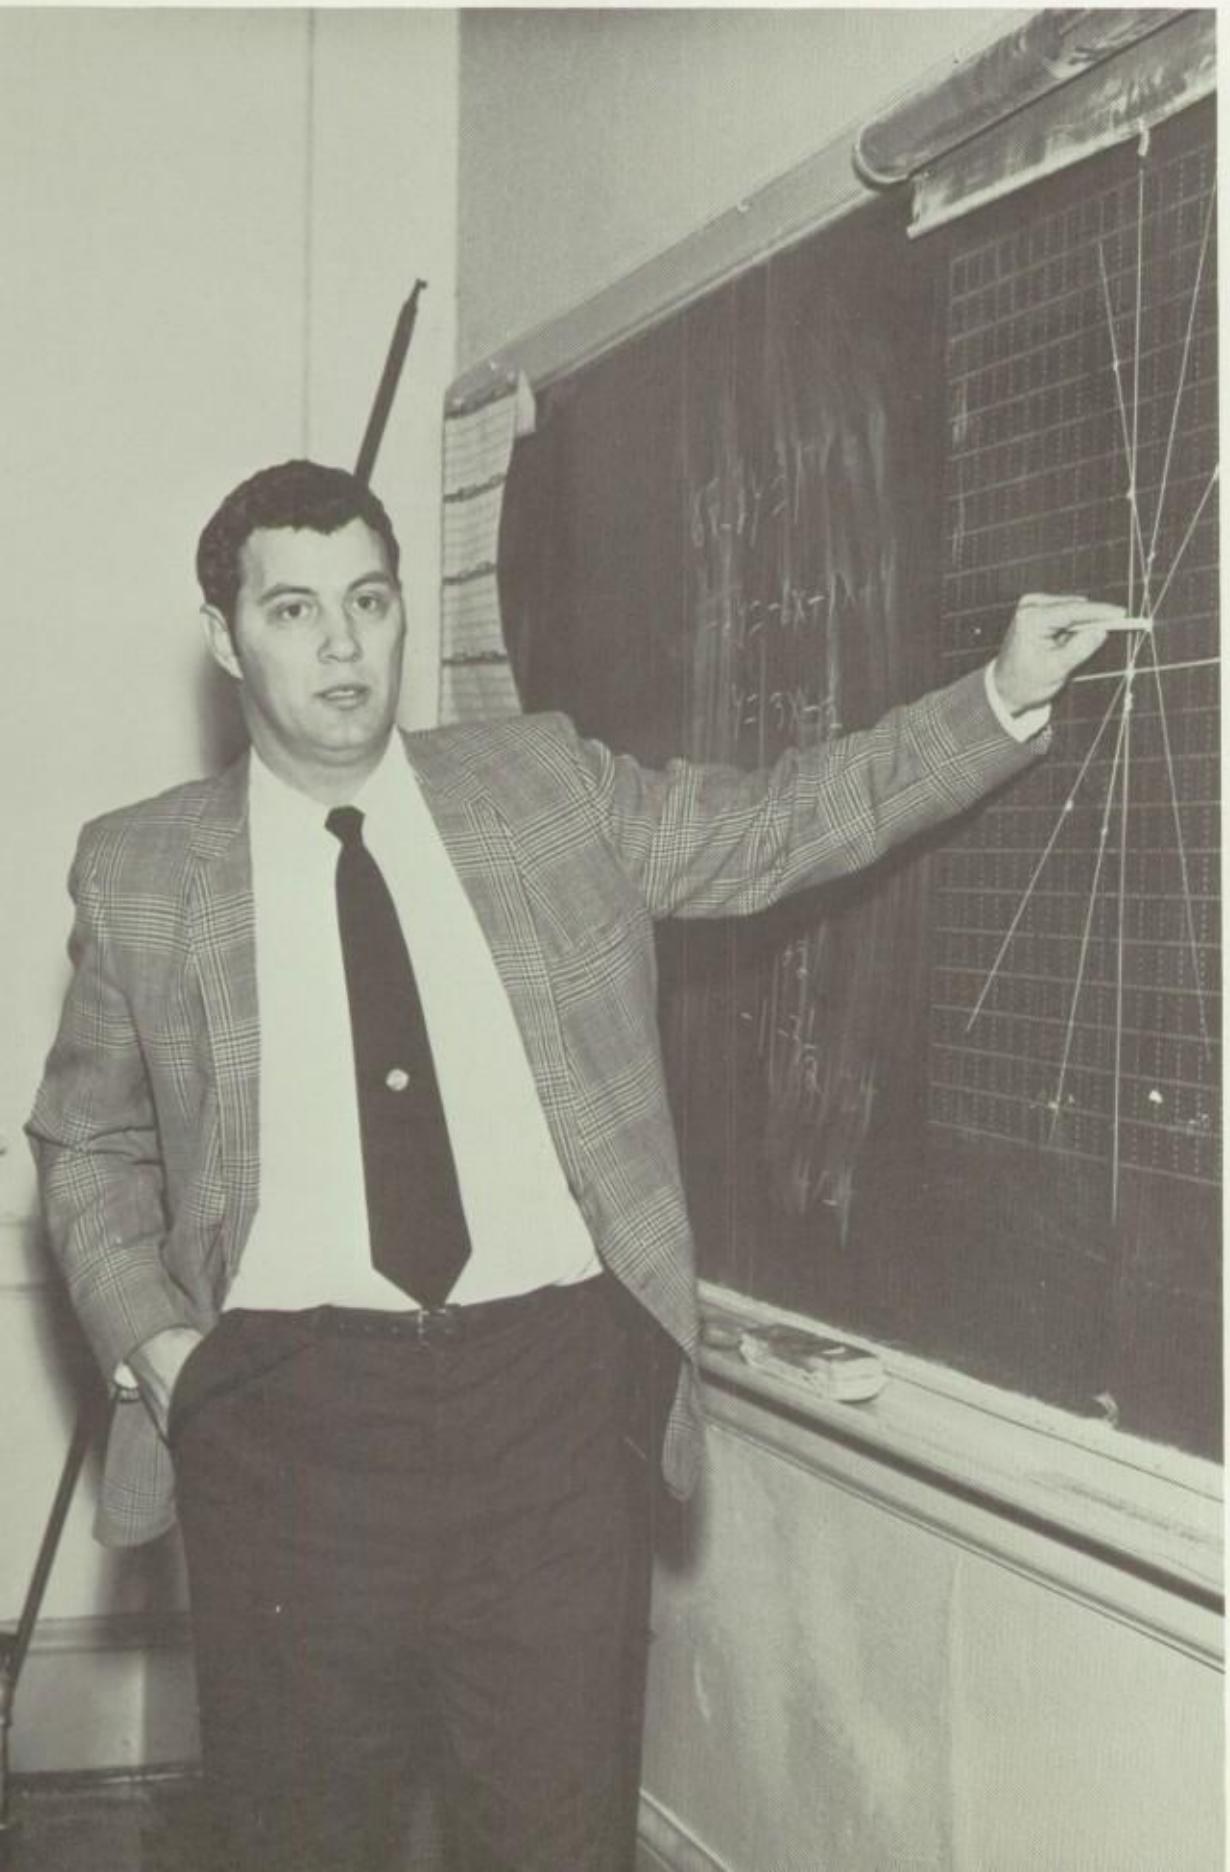
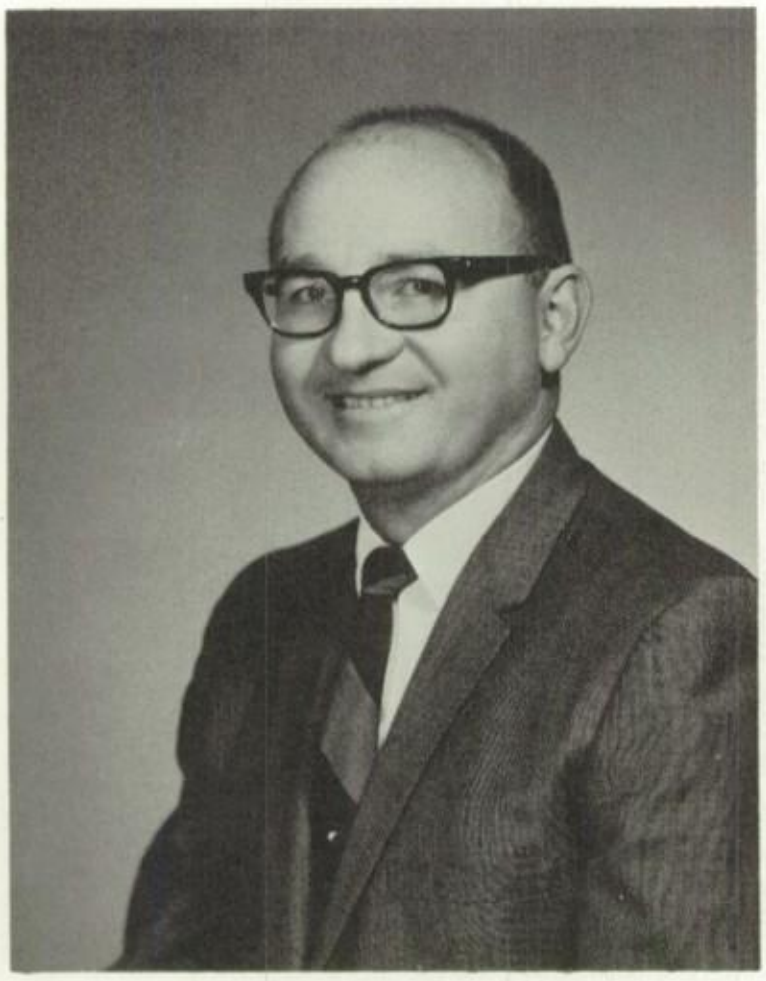
FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION



Action was the key word of the faculty.
Teachers sponsored every sort of activity.
They did it in addition to their classroom chores;
Through them students opened countless doors.
Pupils were introduced to principles and told of facts.
Classes were made interesting for the teachers would not relax,

Until they were certain, and it was clear,
That students had learned "not only to think, but to care."



Gene Cato, Principal

Principal Gene Cato has done much to improve both school spirit and the quality of the Huntingburg High School cirriculum. He has diversified the curriculum with his addition of French II and Aeronautics, and has expanded the Home Economic and Industrial Art Departments, with the addition of new teachers. He hopes to add a third language and an enlarged vocational training program to the curriculum in the near future.

Mr. Cato, who was born in Oakland City and attended Oakland City High School and Oakland City College, and obtained his masters degree from Indiana State University. His last position previous to the one he now holds at Huntingburg High School, was Athletics Director and Vice Principal of Zionsville High School. Since he has Coached basketball, Mr. Cato is very much aware of the need for school spirit. He feels that school spirit can be increased by a greater student interest in extra-curricular activities, including athletics, choir, and band. Perhaps Mr. Cato's thoughts on the subject can best be expressed by his motto for school improvement, "Back, Boost, and Build."

School Board: Alan Nass, President; Max Olinger, Vice President; William Schnute, Superintendent; and Dennis Balsmeyer, Secretary.

Vince Myer, Vice Principal

This year Huntingburg High School added a vice-principal to its faculty. Mr. Vince Myer, a former Brownsburg Athletic Director, was chosen to fill this position. Mr. Myer, who comes from Greenville, Indiana, holds both a bachelor's degree and a master's degree, having obtained them from Butler University. His duties include supervising attendance, and offering guidance and counseling to the seventh through ninth grades.

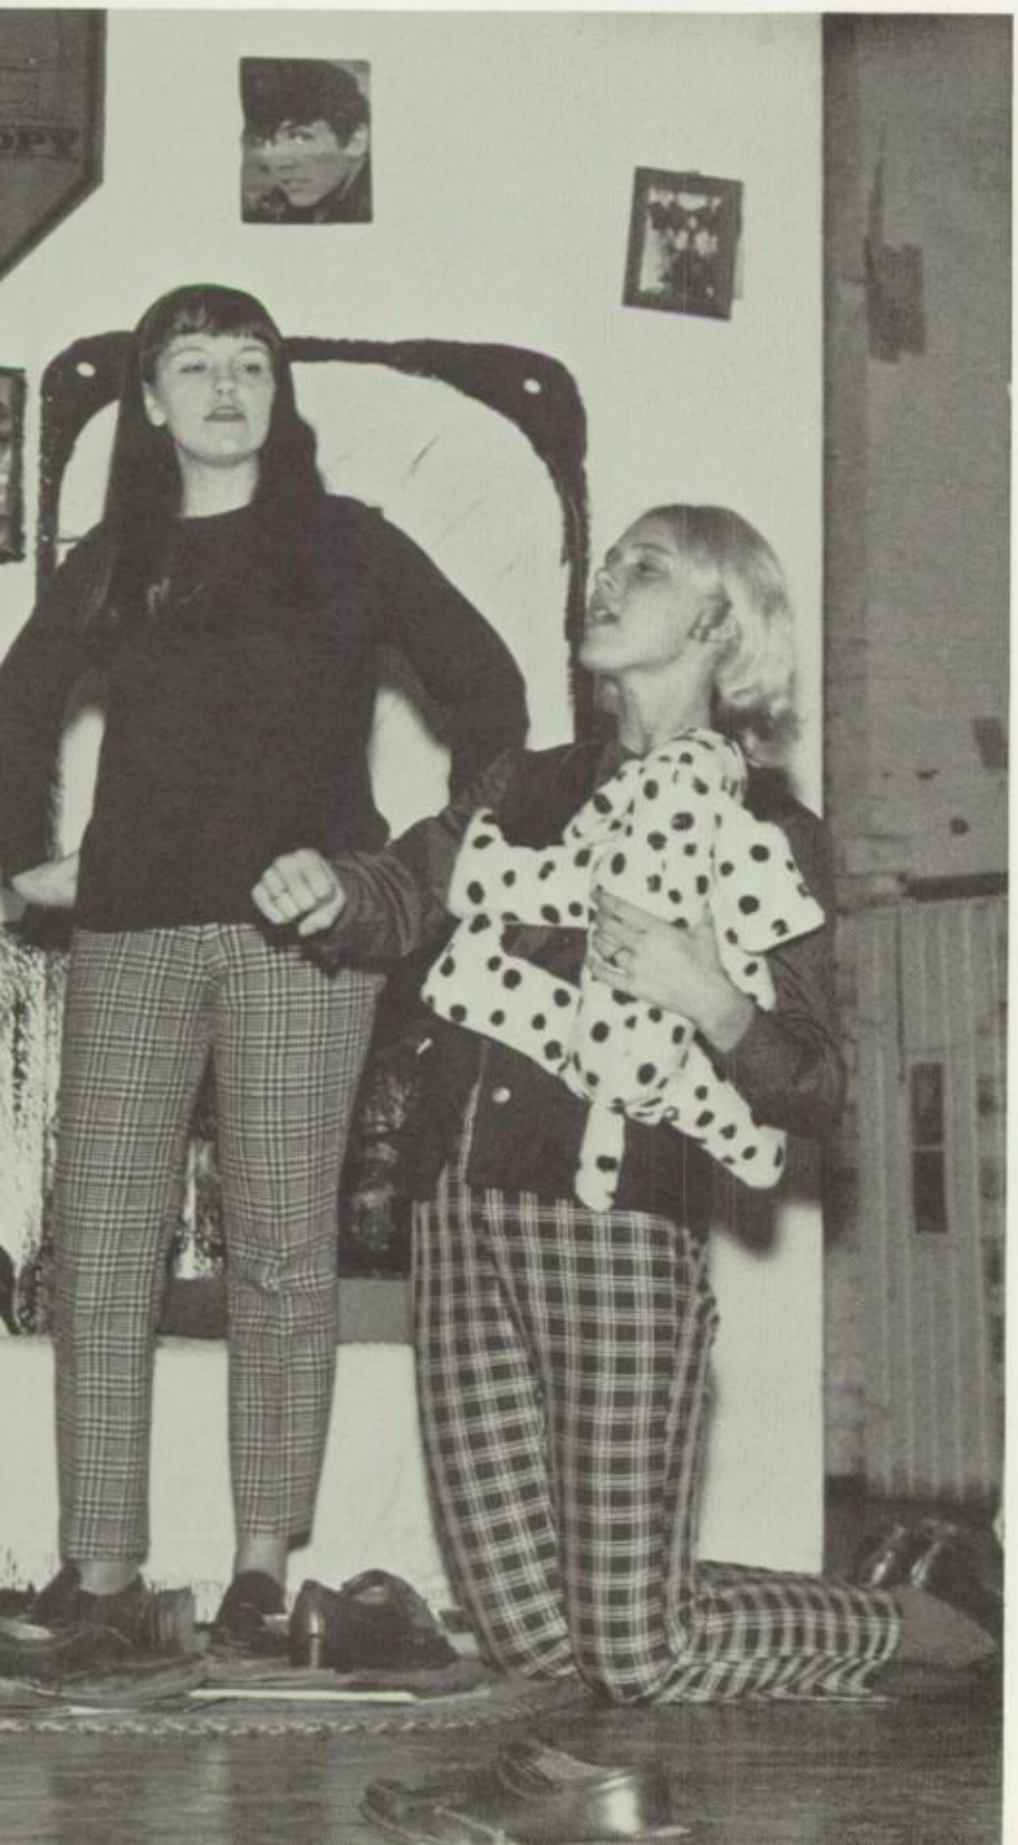
Teachers, David Schipp, James Bilderback, Pat Ruhe, Lowell Beasley, and James Lewis, found plenty of time to cut-up during their strenuous teaching day.

UNDERCLASSMEN



Well here they've come; the freshmen are here.
They're excited, and hopeful, and full of fear.
The sophomores know what's expected of them;
There are tests, and quizzes, and papers due in.
Juniors must look to that future not far away;
Yet not forget to enjoy each junior day.
Each year seems so different, but the goal is one.
"They're climbing up the ladder rung by rung."

"Stuck Pot"

After one laborious month of practice the Junior class presented its play "The Stuck Pot" on November 14 to an attentive audience. The theme of the play was an annual dance, sponsored by a girls' school in which a boys' school was made to attend. The humor of the story comes from a plot by the girls to get even with the boys. A stuck pot is awarded to the boy who gets stuck with the worst looking girl. The girls decided to award that girl with a stuck pot of their own, so all the girls tried to make themselves repulsive.

"Fly Me To The Moon"

The 1970 Junior-Senior Prom was held on May 9 at the Huntingburg Elementary gym. The Boston Tea Party provided the music and carried out the theme of "Fly Me to the Moon." It was a night to remember for all who attended. Denny Lewis and Gail Luker were chosen to reign as King and Queen.

Busy junior class officers Susan Schwartz, president; Julie Overbeck, vice-president; Beth Lamkin, secretary; and Mary Ann Fleck, treasurer discuss details concerning the junior-senior prom.

Danny Dunn, student coach, gives a tip to the junior girls prior to the kick-off of the junior-sponsored Powder Puff Football Game. The junior team was able to secure only a 6–6 tie against the rival senior team. The event, however, was an immense success and provided much money for the junior sponsored prom.

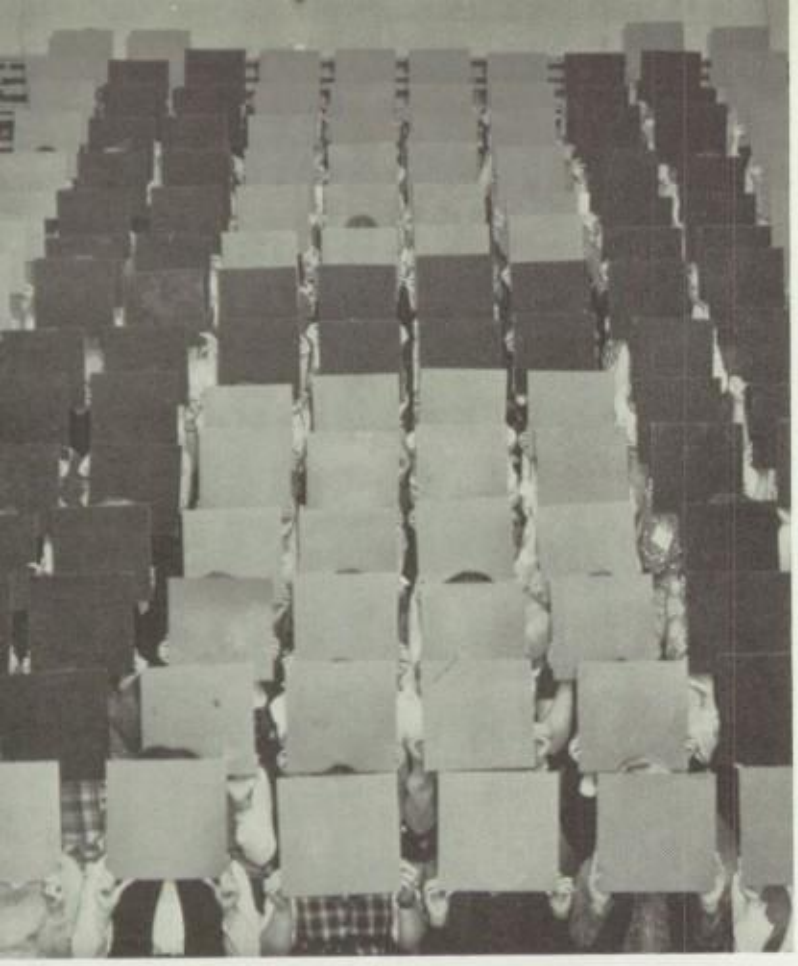
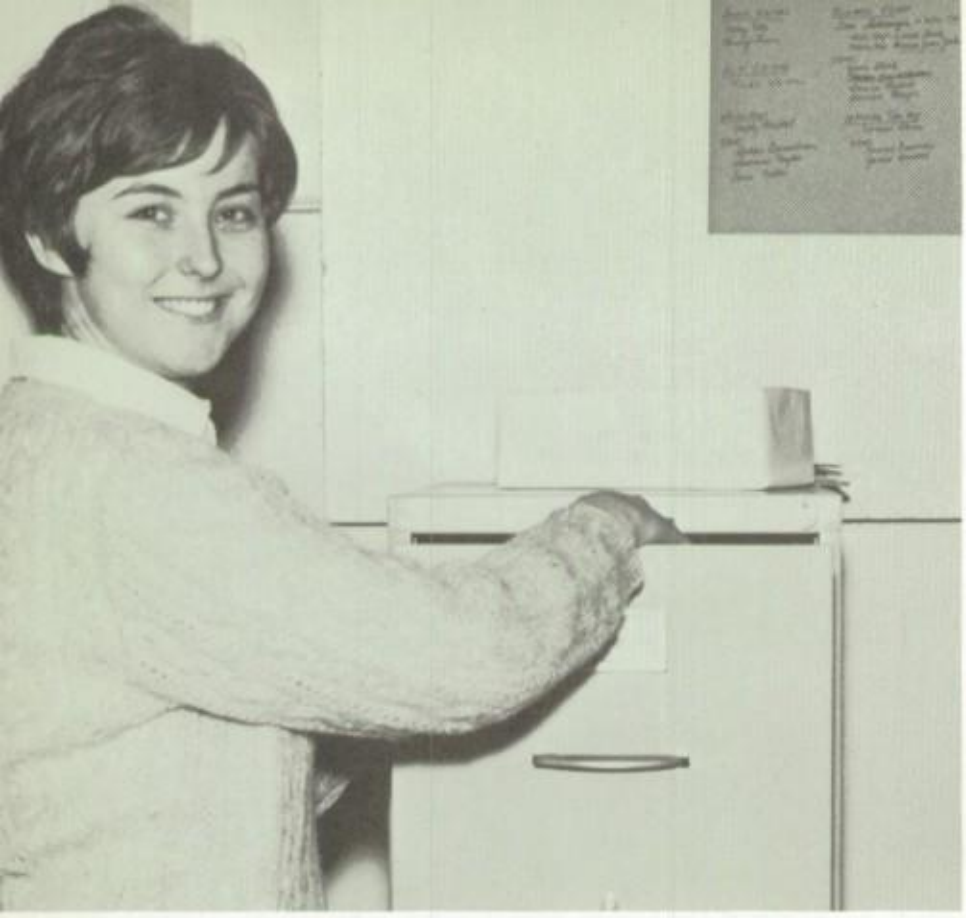
Seventh grade girls were often seen entering the gym after returning early from lunch.



ACTIVITIES

Work is work,
But fun is fun,
And when it comes to school,
They'd best be "rolled into one".
Student activities provide much fun,
By staging dances and planning trips to keep us on the run.



Editor, Becky Kendall was quite often found rummaging through the file cabinet to find missing lay-out sheets and pictures.

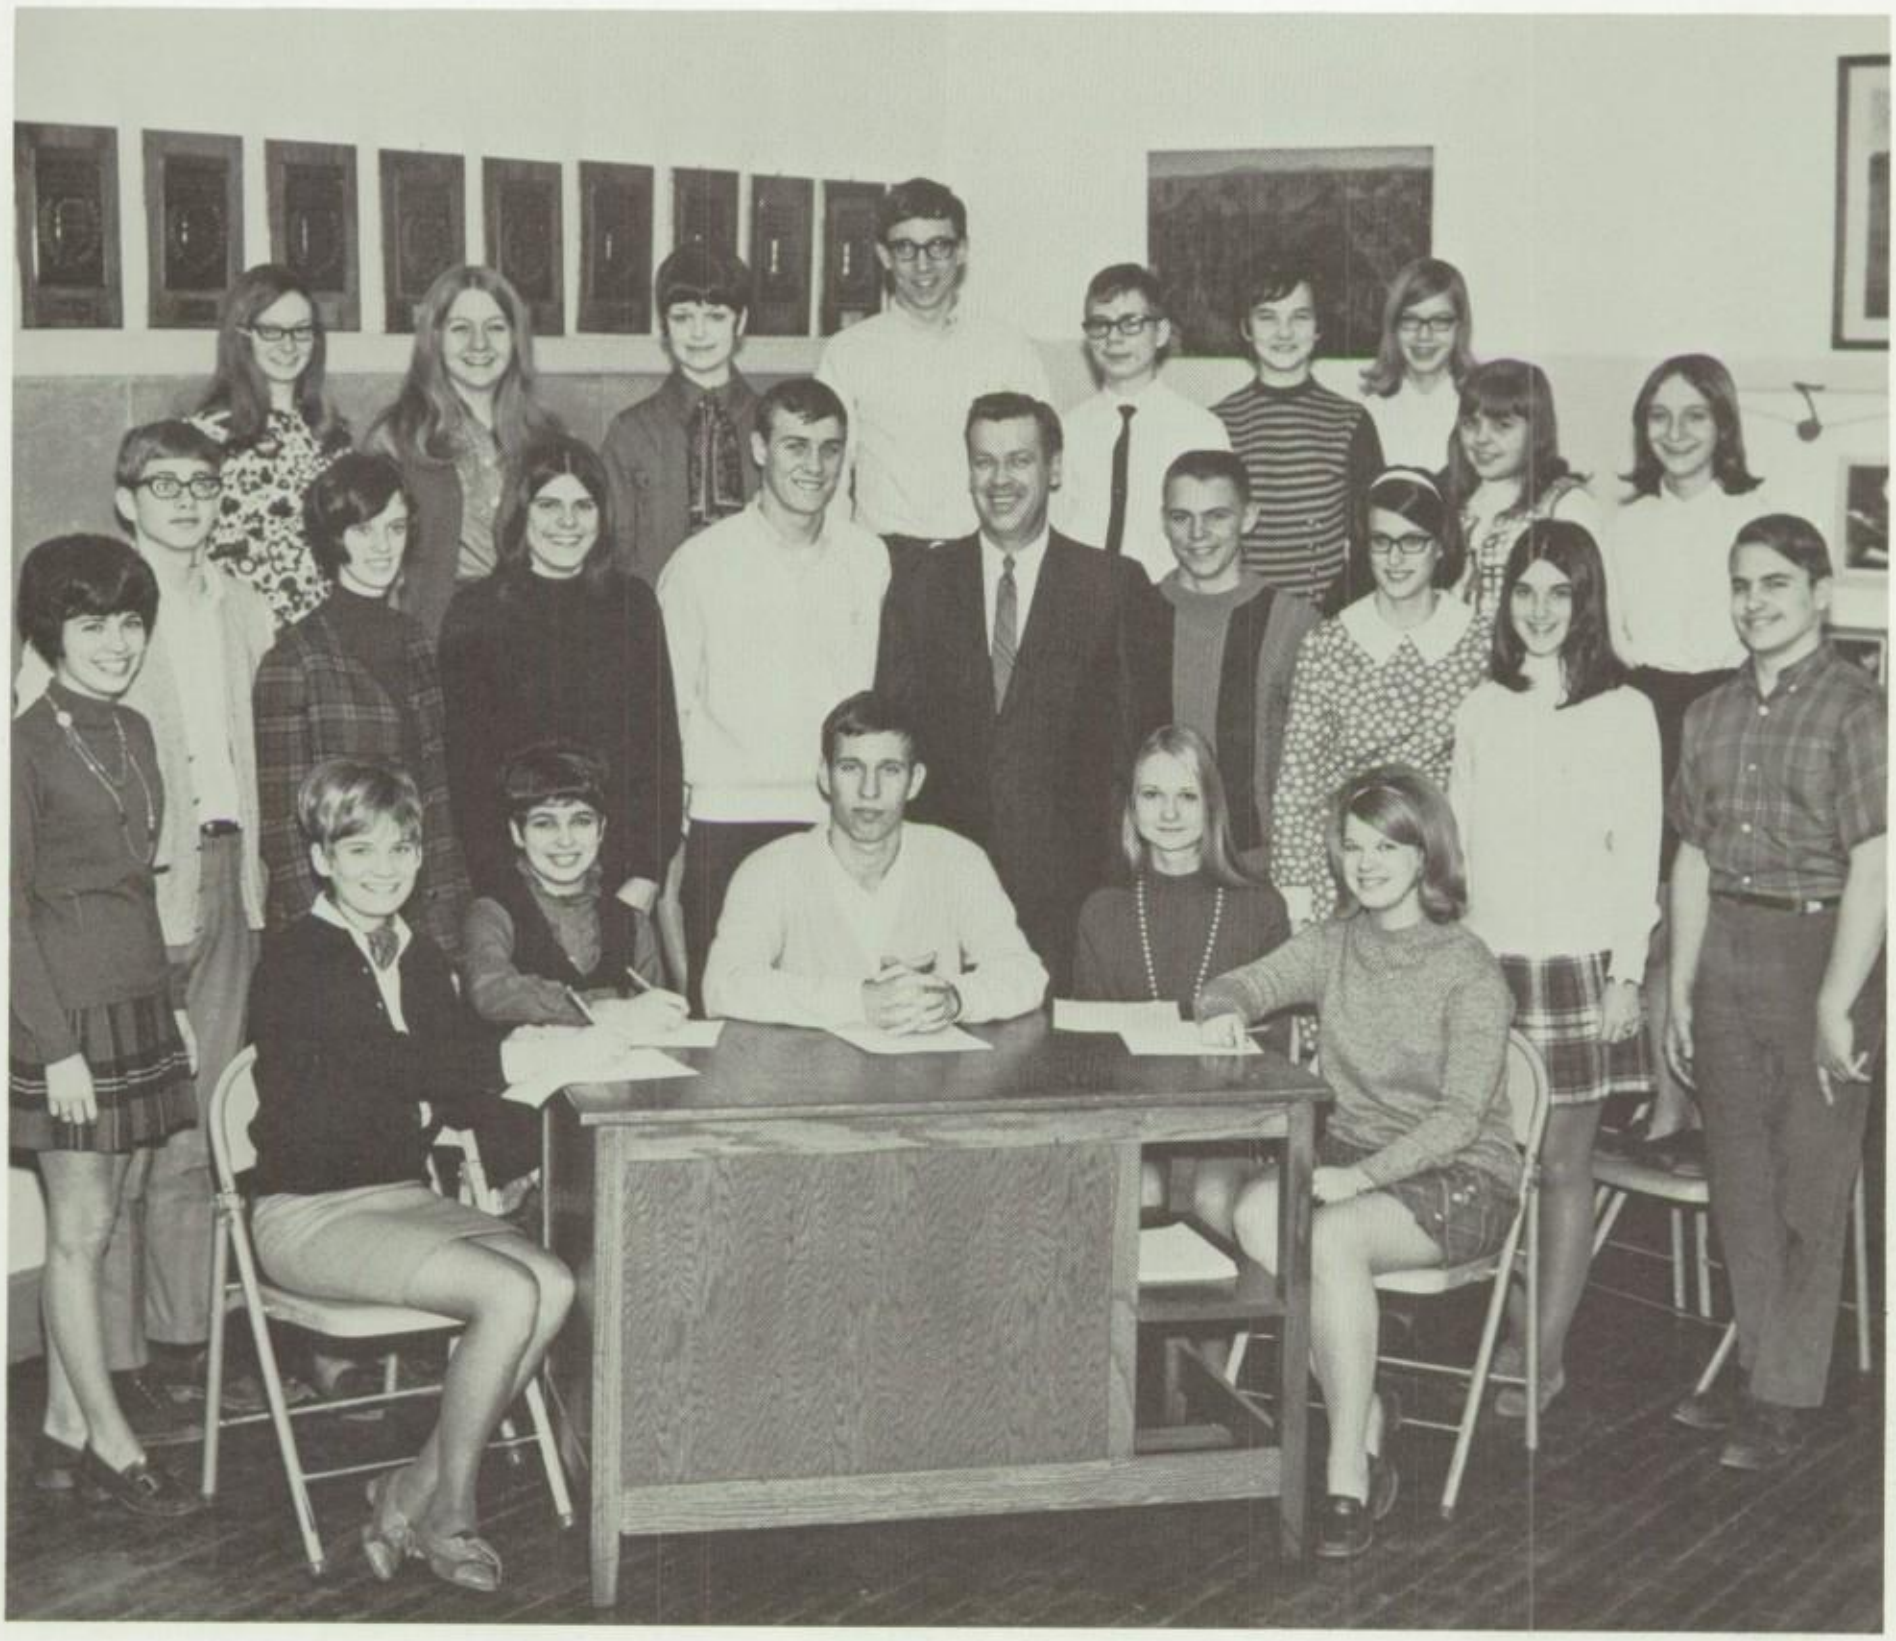
Assistant Editor, Becky Schnute, announced with the help of a Snoopy Pal, that the Yearbook sale was in effect.

Yearbook Staff

The '69–'70 Yearbook staff was the first in the history of the school to be comprised of students from each of the upper 4 grades. We feel that this unifies the student body in putting out the annual "HUNTER." The staff was given the entire activity period each day to work on the annual, but April, May, and June evenings often found members of the staff working into all hours of the night to meet their deadlines. The staff set up headquarters as the "HUNTER OFFICE" next to Mr. Myer's. In addition to selling the student pictures, the staff also sold student I.D.'s with each students picture on them.

Each member of the staff was awarded a pin and certificate for their valuable service throughout the year.

Student Council

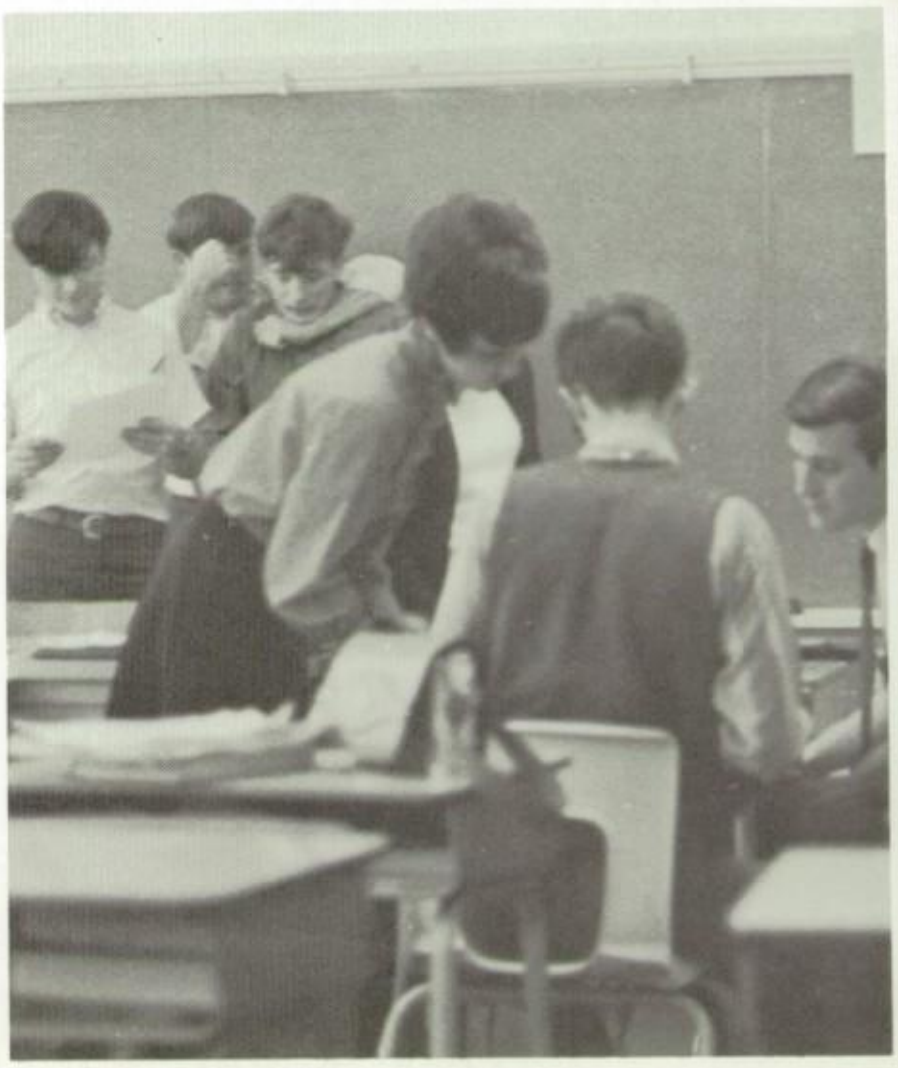


The '69–'70 Student Council was very active. Officers were Howard Renner, president; Julia Songer, Vice-president; Gail Luker, news reporter; Connie Gosman, treasurer; and Becky Schnute, Secretary.

The council served on two panels this year including one for the P.T.A. and one for the Citizen's Advisory Board.

The council also sponsors convocations and queen crownings, with the members serving as hosts and hostesses.

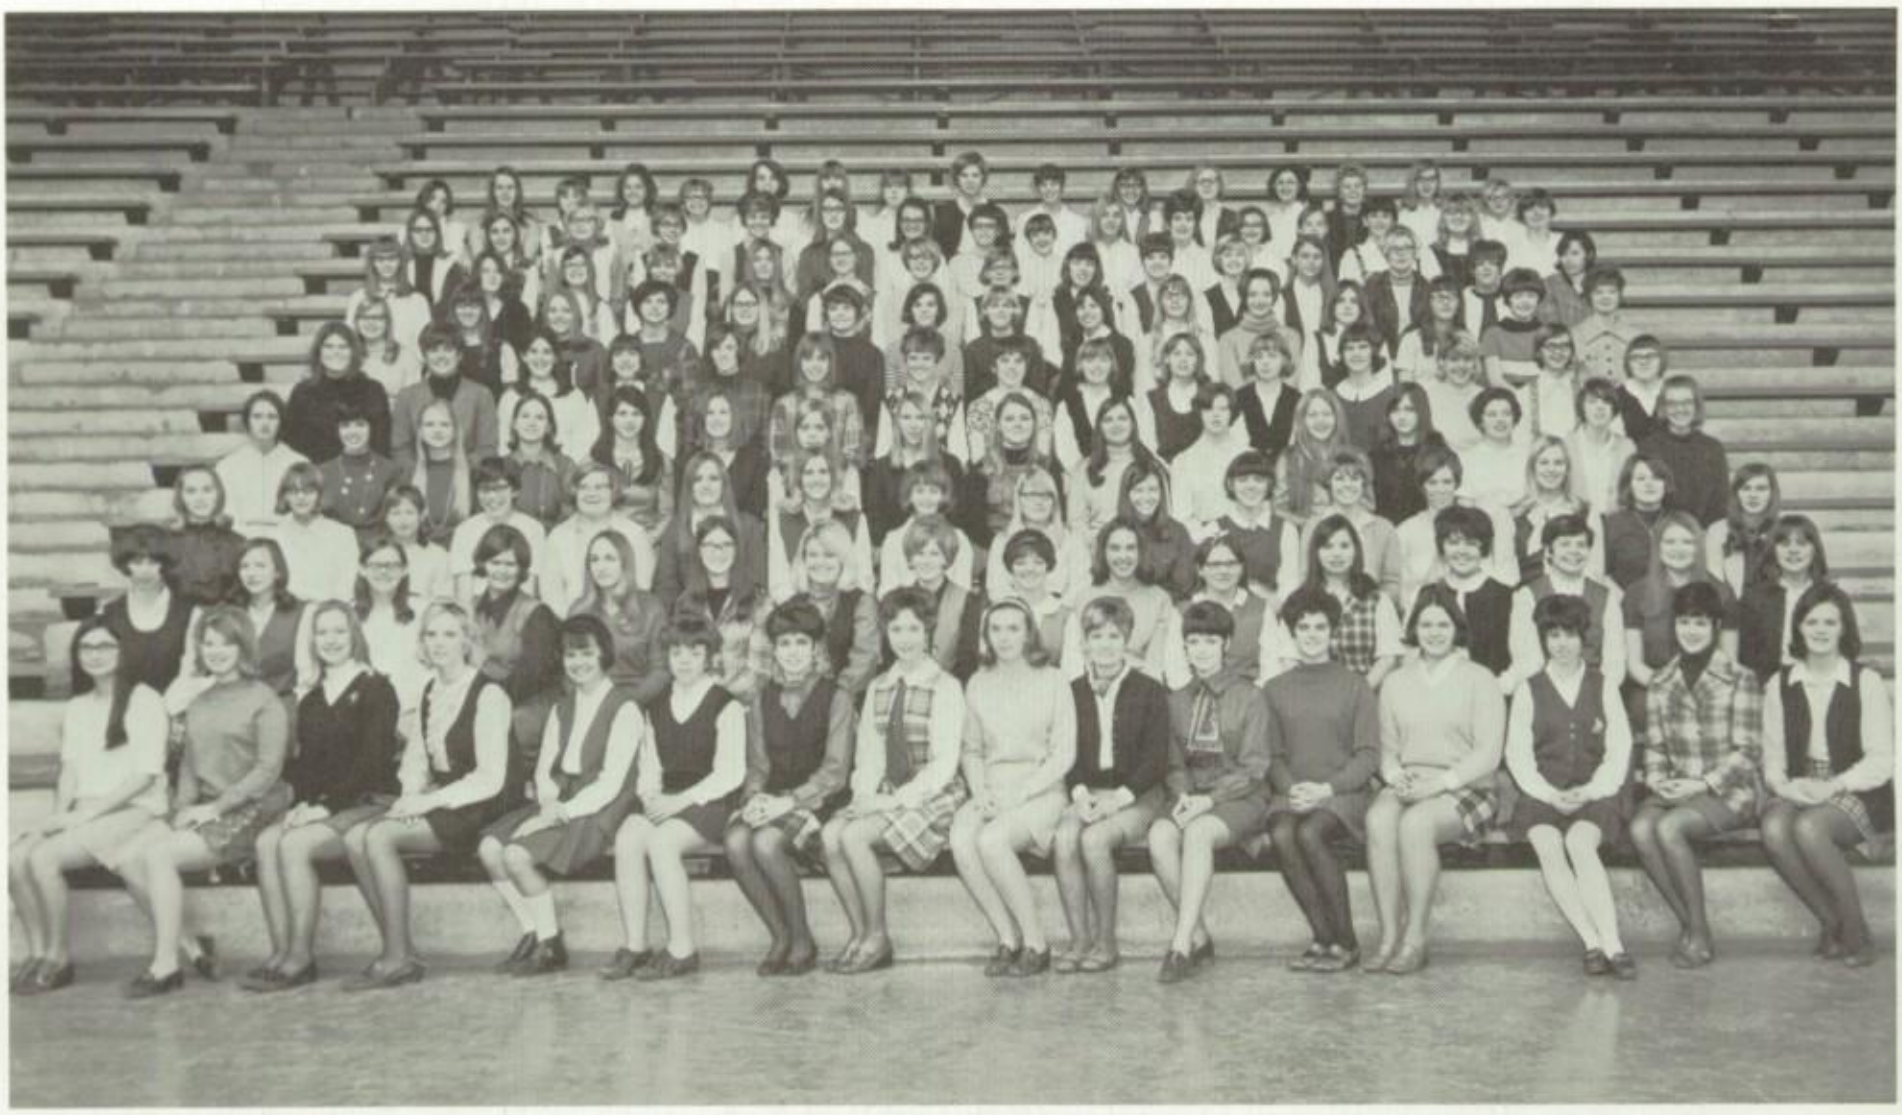
Das Jaeger Staff



The Das Jaeger Staff is composed of the juniors and seniors in Mr. Kieffner's Speech and Journalism class. The staff worked hard to put out neat, orderly publications of the happenings in H.H.S. They have shown us that much work goes into putting out a good school paper which includes sports, club news, and current events around school.

Tri-Hi-Y Club

The Tri-Hi-Y's purpose is to promote clean, Christian living. Sponsored by Mrs. Katterhenry, the club fulfilled its purpose by buying clothing for needy children at Christmas and supporting an orphan overseas. The major money-making project of the Tri-Hi-Y was the selling of Christmas wrapping paper. The club also presented a scholarship to an outstanding senior member and sponsored a banquet which was held in April. Officers were, Gae Feldmeyer, President; Barbara Rummel, Vice-president; Alice Wright, Secretary; Janice Kendall, Treasurer; Debbie Oser, Chaplain; Dee Dee Schulte, Sergeant-at-Arms; Marla Hohl, Historian.



GAA

1969-70 was a very exciting year for the Girls' Athletic Association. The annual volleyball and deck tennis tournaments were held and the Mighty Seniors captured first honors in both. The track team had a highly rewarding year also, sending one girl, Debbie Harris to the state track meet in Gary, Indiana. Along with the other sports such as baseball and basketball, GAA also sponsors various projects to help pay for senior plaques as well as ribbons presented to the victors of the various tournaments.

At the annual senior banquet the senior members of GAA were awarded plaques which they earned during their four year membership. The seniors earned their plaques on a point basis according to how many sports they had participated in.

Pep Club

The school spirit and cooperation displayed by the Pep Club promoted Coach Myer to declare its members the "Number One Boosters" in Indiana. Pep Club projects included providing two hoops for every home game, decorating the locker rooms, filling the school halls with posters, and presenting the boys on the basketball team with gifts. Through the use of flash cards, the pep block was able to put their boundless energy to work in an effective, well organized, and original display of "Spirit". Working closely with the cheerleaders and Amy Baurenfiend, the sponsor, the Pep Club was an endless source of loyal team backing. They were well rewarded for their efforts on February 28 when the Happy Hunters captured the Sectional Crown.

The Future Homemakers of America, an affiliate of the national organization, is one of the most spirited clubs at Huntingburg High School. Through various fund-raising projects, including a stationary sale and sock hop, the F.H.A. is able to finance their various projects.

Their annual Sweetheart Dance, held February 13, crowned Donna Egbert as their Queen. Another outstanding member, Connie Heim received the Betty Crocker "Homemaker of Tomorrow" Award for her achievement in a national examination. The sponsors of the organization, Miss Colvin and Miss Kerr a fine desire to become responsible homemakers.

Girls' Library Club

The Girls' Library Club, sponsored by Mrs. Katterhenry, was very busy during the 1969–70 school year. The members attended meetings of the Dixie Bibliophiles and the HSLA. At Christmas time, the members of the club collected money to buy presents for underpriveleged children. The club also held a spring banquet at which they honored the senior members. Officers were, Carla Bredemeier, President; Gae Feldmeyer, Vice-President; Sharon Welp, Treasurer; Susan Schwartz, Secretary; Julie Overbeck, Historian; Beth Lampkin, Reporter.

Art Club

The officers of this years Art Club were: Tonda Whitten, President; Linda Temple, Secretary-Treasurer; Brenda Weyerbacker, News Reporter. The '69-'70 Art Club was "small but mighty". Money making projects included a bake sale held early in the year, and the sale of red and black beanies during the basketball season. One meeting found members learning to make clay figures. An informal tea was also given by the club. Miss Colvin, the Home Economics teacher, showed slides of her trip to Hawaii. The highlight of each year for Art Club members is a trip to a museum or other cultural center.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club, under a new sponsor, Mrs. Julia Page, continued to acquaint members with the geographical and cultural phases of the Spanish-speaking countries. This was accomplished by slides of Spain and the Central American countries which were shown at various meetings. Cathy Cato, President; Connie Heim, Vice-president; Randy Astrike, Secretary; Doug Prior, Treasurer.

French Club

The French Club under their sponsor, Miss Charlene Eckerle, was organized in 1969–70 by interested students wishing to learn more of France, the people, and the customs. Officers were, Julie Overbeck, President; Doug Freson, Vice-president; Sharon Schipp, Secretary; Susan Schwartz, Treasurer; Beth Lamkin, Program Chairman.

Business Club

The Business Club, which is co-sponsored by Mr. Schroeder and Miss Flick, is an organization of bookkeeping and typing students who are interested in business. Meetings of the Business Club focused on principal business figures in the community who came to speak to the club.

F.T.A.

The F.T.A., Future Teachers of America, is an organization designed to better acquaint future teachers with the art of teaching. Sponsored by Mr. James Bilderback and Mr. Pat Ruhe, the club was very active all year. The F.T.A. also made a major contribution by awarding a $100 scholarship to an outstanding senior member of the club. Officers were, Cathy Cato, President; Becky Schnute, Vice-President; Susan Schwartz, Secretary; Julie Overbeck, Treasurer.

Science Club

The aim of Science Club members is to learn more about the various aspects of Science, to keep informed of new scientific developments, and to understand their practical application. This aim was accomplished in 1969–70 by listening to speakers like Dr. Amini, and Loma Hartke, watching filmstrips on such subjects as open heart surgery, and by witnessing such natural phenomena as the eclipse of the sun which was viewed through the club's telescope.

Aeronautics Club

The Aeronautics Club, another newly formed organization, was established to promote an interest in and understanding of aviation principles. The sale of refreshments at junior high football games and, at a later date, sweatshirts bearing the school emblem were the money-making projects undertaken to finance club activities. A journey to Indianapolis to visit the Wier Cook Air Terminal demonstrated to the members how aviation principles are applied. Objectives of the Aeronautics Club included the rebuilding of a World War II Link Flight Trainer, obtained from the United States Air Force, and the obtaining of a private pilot rating for members through the successful completion of the Federal Aviation Administration ground school test.

Lettermen's Club

The officers of the 1969–70 Lettermen's Club were, Hank Menke, President; Mark Hildebrand, Vice-President; Dave Krieg, Secretary; Steve Sakel, Treasurer. Their advisor was James Bardwell. Activities throughout the year included the selling of red booster hats and magazines and the sponsoring of a chili supper. The purpose of the club is to insure cleaner sports.

Industrial Arts Club

The 1969–70 Industrial Arts Club, a newly formed organization, was sponsored by Mr. Berry, Mr. Blemker, and Mr. Meyer. It was presided over by senior Bruce Reinhart. The purpose of the club is to inform students in the industrial arts program of new techniques and developments in the industrial world. Meetings were highlighted by prominent businessmen who spoke about and often demonstrated effective industrial proceedures. The officers for the 1969–70 Industrial Arts Club were, Bruce Reinhart, President; Glenn Kemp, Vice-President; Stephen Hoph, Secretary; Jim Bartley, Treasurer.

The PEP BAND provided music for school convocations and home basketball games.

The H.H.S. TWIRLERS for 1969-70 were: Cheryl Gerlach, Kaye Ferguson, Cathy Cato, Beth Lamkin, Debbie Powell, and Diane Freson.

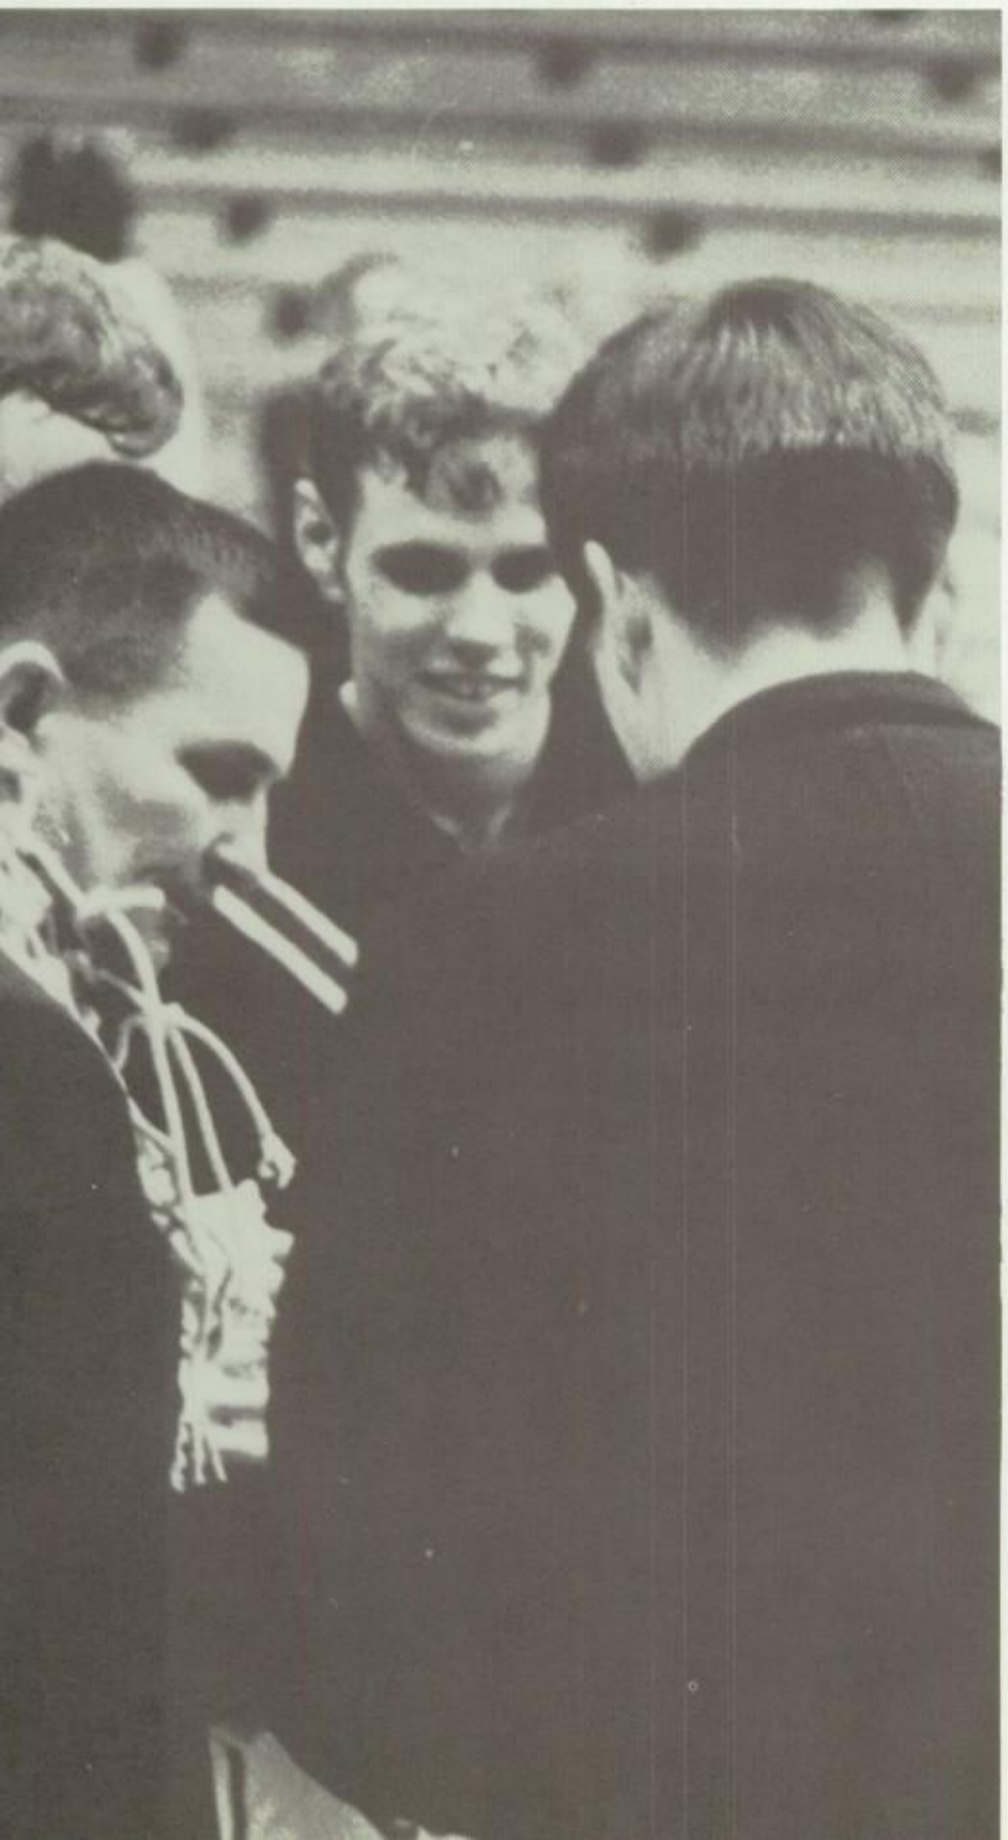
ATHLETICS



The Huntingburg fans it is very clear,
That 1970 was a Hunter year.
In games, tourneys, and meets both distant and near,
Huntingburg athletes were exceptional, it would appear.
With discipline, skill, training, and desire,
They boosted school winning higher and higher.
Through basketball, football, cross-country, and track;
Golf and baseball coaches and players never lacked
The kind of team spirit that causes matches to be won,
And so "demanding recognition one by one."

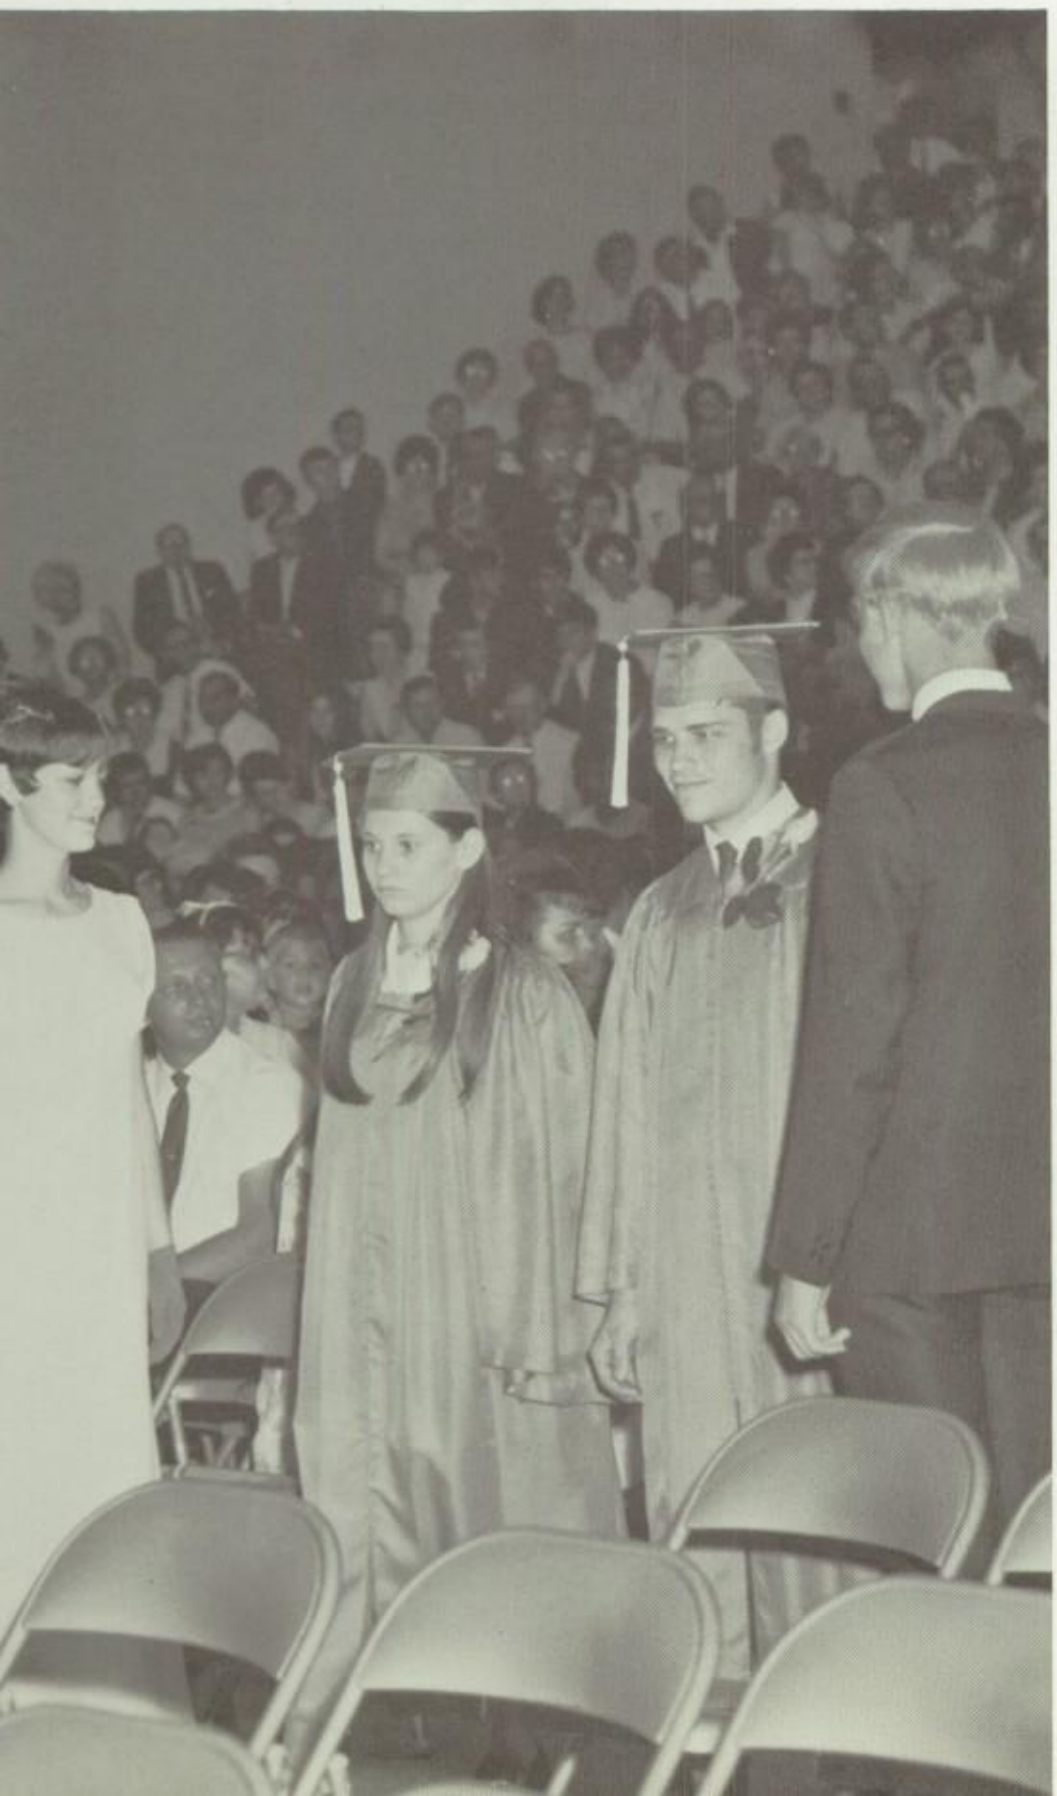
SENIORS



The seniors found final high school days.
Occupied in a number of ways.
A tourney was won; we were sectional champs.
We staged our last class play, attended our last prom dance.
In extra-curricular activities, friendships, and studies too,
We bid good-bye to the old and prepared for the new.
We graduated, at last, midst pride and tears,
With high school memories to last through the years.

Senior Class Play

"Rest Assured"

Have you ever said, "Over my dead body"? In the comedy "Rest Assured", grouchy, wealthy Mr. Morlock and good-natured Luigi Lanconi both say this. Mr. Morlock says that if his daughter, Mary, weds up with Luigi's son, Joe, it will be over his dead body. Luigi says that if they don't it will be over his dead body. The two men start a feud. Luigi's always had a bad heart and well, the poor boy just can't take it and he konks out. The feud appears over. All is lost, But whoa up! Hold the phone! Luigi gets permission to come back and haunt Mr. Morlock, and to continue haunting him until he gives permission for the wedding. Needless to say, Mr. Morlock is frantic. The entire family thinks he's lost his remaining marbles when they see him out there talking to himself. Poor Mr. Morlock. He can't eat; can't sleep. Then it happens, he too, kicks the bucket. So does this end it all? Of course not.

"How dare you!?"

"What ghost??"

"I'lla Knocka hisa Block off!"

A female wrestler??

"Hold me tight, Luigi!"

"Your papa was a good man, Joe."

"Mind if I call you Butch??"

"Who in H needs a tail??"

"I'm really loaded!!??"

"Ahhhhhhhhhh. . ."

"Alla right!"

"Sure you were at the office!??"

"Oh, what a rough day!"

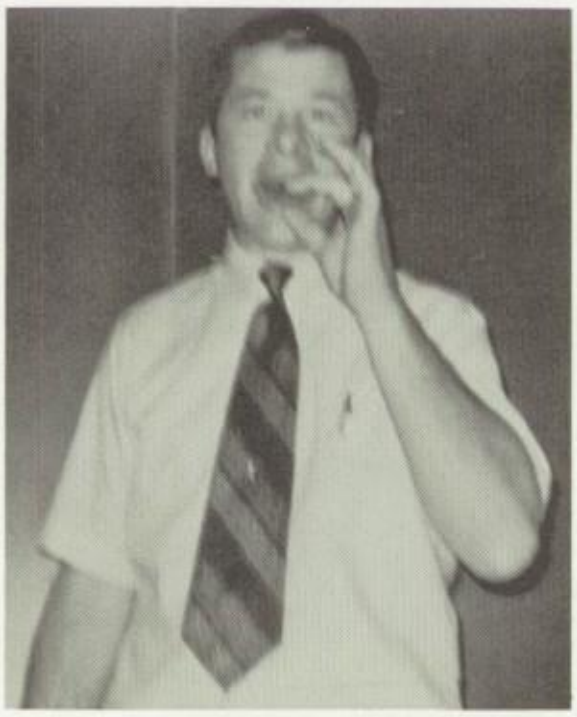
"Did you Really?!"

"Wow! ! "



"It's my turn to talk! ! "

Surprise! Surprise!!

"What's it all about??"
